Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere has given the to numerous inquiries fouching the facts in the case. The inquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and hance, as stated in the communication; second, is it trae of all therein contained; third does my hair still continue to be in poon order and of natural color? To all I can and will answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for forty years past, more soft thrifty and better colored; the sime is frue of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true is that the substance is weshed off by frequent ablution of he face, when if care were used by wiping the face, in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of lefters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much from in the manufacture and sail of various compounds as well as this, it has no doubt been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good teutro absolute injury. I have not used any of basely mitated and been used, not only without any good tutto absolucinjury. I have not used any of your bestorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have ex mined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my fead or on my face; and to prove this fact. 5463 of them manufactured last year—more than double the number of any other dras class stove in one year, in the United States.

THEY contain all the improvements which are in all the first class stores, and the advantages and improvements over other stores are in part as follows:

1st. The arrangement for broiling on the freet hearth,

1st. The arrangement for broiling on the frest hearth,—an improvement overlooked in other first class stoves. It has also the same arrangement for broiling on top.

2d. A thorough ventilation of the Oven.

3d. Introducing hot air draught to the fire chamber, thereby increasing the draught of the Stove, quilekening its operations, and enabling it to throw out more heat—a matter much and justly complained of in other Stoves.

4th. An imperiant improvement in the application of the damper, which throws the heat around the oven.

5th. Much greater weight, consequently heavier plates, and more durable as well as handsomer eastings.

6th. A draft damper at each end of the fire hox, so that the fire is equalized, and one gridle will heat as quick as the other, also heating the oven in half the time.

7th. Fire back protected by soap-stone, so it cannot
